A PICTURESQUE CHESHIRE VILLAGE

Lying in sight of the Pennine foothills astride the River Bollin, pretty Prestbury dates to Anglo Saxon Times. The main street is a Conservation Area dominated by the Grade One listed St. Peter's Church. Characterised by a succession of black and white and red Cheshire brick structures, many properties here date back to the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries.

Prestbury is quintessentially English and part of Cheshire's highly desirable Golden Triangle. Its old-fashioned exterior encases a community rich in contemporary lifestyles. The village has a lively bar and restaurant scene, and the high street combines high end retail opportunities with practical local amenities, suppliers and hotels.

The village boasts excellent connectivity with its own train station and is located within each reach of prestigious neighbouring towns, such as Wilmslow, Alderley Edge and Macclesfield, offering more comprehensive shopping facilities.

Waterbank offers residents privacy from public gaze with a quiet footpath providing a convenient shortcut into the village centre. Prestbury train station is a short stroll from the development and provides a regular train service into Manchester city centre and beyond.

GROUND FLOOR

Step beyond the bold external architecture and into a home where the abundance of timber and glazing creates an interior that is voluminous and infused with natural light. A galleried glazed landing above the entrance hall gives an immediate impression of sophistication, welcoming guests through to the heart of this home.

Downstairs the property features a spacious freeform living / dining / kitchen area designed to flex around lifestyles and the seasons. Extensive floor to ceiling glazing provides uninterrupted views of the gardens with bi-fold access to a loggia enabling the living space to be further extended for al-fresco dining or entertaining.

The ground floor also boasts two formal reception rooms, a lounge with dual aspect views across the gardens and media room / study. A boot room, cloak room and WC are also included.

A bespoke feature timber staircase with wide steps and glazed balustrades leads upstairs to the galleried first floor.

FIRST & SECOND FLOOR

On the first floor a galleried landing with glazed balustrade continues the air of proportion and elegance through the house. Each of the bedrooms benefits from ample natural light with picture windows providing views across Waterbank.

The master suite enjoys a double height vaulted ceiling and dual aspect vistas. The room features access to a private balcony with ample space for seating all enveloped by the ecological delights of a green roof planted with sedums. Inside, a walk-in dressing area with feature illumination perfect for assessing outfits from every angle, leads through to the extensive ensuite bathroom. Here full height louvred glazing provides discretion for the central free-standing bath while still enabling calming views across the woodland. A walk-in shower, WC and dual sinks are also included.

Two double bedrooms are positioned on the first floor each enjoying ensuite bathrooms. Providing the perfect retreat for home working, an executive study is situated off the galleried landing with a glass partition wall ensuring it is a light and inspiring space. This sits alongside a practically positioned laundry room.

Stepping up another level to the second floor are two further double bedrooms enjoying the same proportions and ensuite facilities as those below.

FIRST & SECOND FLOOR

A galleried landing with glass balustrade draws the eye both up and down the vaulted staircase, setting an awe-inspiring tone for the upper levels of this executive home.

Style and sophistication characterise the master bedroom suite which features a dual height vaulted ceiling and triple vistas across Waterbank. The bedroom can be further extended out onto its private balcony area which is bounded by a charming green roof planted with sedums. Inside, a walk-in dressing area with illuminated central ceiling feature leads through to the extensive ensuite bathroom. Here, louvered full height glazing provides an element of privacy while still enabling enjoyment of Waterbank's woodland setting from the freestanding central bath. A walk-in shower plus dual sinks and WC are also included. Two double bedrooms, each with picture windows and ensuite bathrooms can also be found on the first floor.

A further flight of galleried stairs leads to the second floor. Here two double bedrooms enjoy the same layout as those below, each with its own ensuite bathroom. A practically positioned laundry room is also situated on this floor.
